THURSDAY MORNING OCT 22 1863

The War News

We confess that we are surprised by the intelligence announced by telegraph yesterday morning It looks as though the Government was simply at its old defensive position on the Potomac, where the people seem to have reasonably imagined that our army was crowding the forces of the rebellion to the point of peril and of destruction It is almost inexplicable that such a result should now threaten us and we are at a loss to understand how when brilliant successes were expected from the position and number of our brave forces, at every point of danger, we should be met with such intelligence as the dispatches announce But we are compelled to confide in those who understand better than we can, the perils and the difficulties, as well as the prospective advantages of the position assumed by the Federal army of course we must presume that they intend to accomplish the right thing at the right time, and that in the end we shall find success and triumph

Santiam Gold and Silver Quartz Leads The veins of quartz reported as discovered in August last, and which have occasioned some considerable excitement recently are likely, from present indications, to justify the most incredible reports circulated concerning their richness Some four years since a specimen of quartz was brought from the Santiam by a person who chanced to be hunting in that locality and assayed by a jeweler in Salem He pronounced it very rich indeed, he placed so high a value upon it that people were incredulous, and the matter was dropped and for the time forgotten Mr S B Parrish from whom we now derive our information arrived in town direct from the mines on Tuesday evening, and yesterday showed us the contents of a plethoric sack, specimens of the various strata of the lode which he had penetrated Some of the pieces of surface quartz were exceedingly rich in fine gold visible to the naked eye Other pieces, taken from below the surface are very heavy, contain iron and indications of both silver and gold. In these latter specimens silver is believed to predominate There being no facilities here for ascertaining the precise nature and extent of this newly discovered source of wealth, Mr Parrish has forwarded several pieces to San Francisco for analysis He is under the impression that it will turn out to be possessed of more silver than gold, but, until after a metallurgical examination, all opinions must, of course, be purely speculative The pieces alluded to as containing the gold are abundant evidence that he has a "good thing" The lode is extensive, and is situated on the north branch of the south fork of the Santiam river, and distant seventy miles from Salem The route is good to the hills, and thence to the mine, some forty eight miles over the mountains, the road is rough, rugged and comparatively unopened, but it is thought that a good pack trail can be made for some $1500 or $2000 Mr Parrish contemplates putting up an arastra on his claim as early as practicable in the spring

Rosecrans on Soldiers Voting —A few days ago, we published an extract from a letter written by Gen Grant to a Democratic committee on this subject, and now we have the views of Rosecrans He writes to a Democratic committee in Ohio that he is entirely in favor of allowing soldiers to vote, and they shall, so far as he can assure it, be permitted to vote just as they please The General cannot permit stump speakers to hold forth in his army, but every reasonable facility will be given for the distribution of papers, tickets, &c, provided that "when any publication appears among us so licentious lying, or traitorous, as to endanger the morality, or be likely to impair the spirit and vigor of this army, I feel bound by reason, justice and duty to my country, to use my authority to prevent its circulation"

Want of Confidence in Jeff Davis —The Memphis Bulletin is informed that the election for Rebel Congressmen in Tennessee has resulted in the defeat of the Jeff Davis candidates in the Nashville and Knoxville districts. H S Foote, the wandering politician and representative from Nashville, and Wm G Swan, were chosen by the rebel State Convention as the exponents of Jeff Davis' administration, and their election was intended to be an indorsement of it but the "stump" candidates, John H Savage and W N Cooke, have been elected Such a result is only significant in the fact that it shows a want of confidence by the rebels in their administration

The Reported "Retirement" of General McClellan —Inquiries respecting the reported placing of Gen McClellan on "retired pay," have developed the fact that an Act of Congress provides that when an army officer shall have remained unemployed for six months all allowances for servants and horses shall cease The application of this law to General McClellan is the basis of his reported "retirement" which he shares with Generals Fremont, Butler, Buell, and others

The Chapman Pirates

We find in the Sacramento Union the following brief abstract of the charge of Judge Field, and the report of the verdict in this most important criminal case The United States Court chamber was crowded to hear Judge Field's charge to the jury Judge Hoffman also delivered a charge, remarking that this charge was made at the request of Field and that Field's charge should govern the jury The delivery of the charges occupied about one hour. The audience seemed deeply interested After reviewing the Acts of Congress to suppress insurrection, Judge Field said

It is not, however, necessary that I should go into any close definition of the terms "levying war," for it is not sought to apply them to any doubtful case War has been levied against the United States A war of gigantic proportions is now waged against them and the Government is struggling with it for life War levied, all who aid in its prosecution, whether by open hostilities in the field or by performing any part in the furtherance of the common object, however minute or however remote from the scene of action, are equally guilty of treason within the constitutional provision In treason there are no accessories All who engage in the rebellion at any stage of its existence, or who designedly give to it any species of aid and comfort in whatever part of the country, may be said to stand on the same platform They are all principals in the commission of the crime They are all levying war against the United States This indictment was under the second section of the Act, which declares that if any person shall hereafter incite set on foot, assist or engage in any rebellion or insurrection against the authority of the United States or the laws thereof, or shall give aid or comfort thereto or shall engage in or give aid and comfort to any such existing rebellion or insurrection, and be convicted thereof such person shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten years or by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars, and by the liberation of all his slaves if any he have or by both said punishments at the discretion of the Court The Judge said, "As to the treasonable purposes of the defendants there is no conflict in the evidence It is true the principal witnesses of the Government are, according to their own statements, co-conspirators with the defendants—are equally involved in guilt with them, if guilt there be in any of them, But their testimony, as you have seen, has been corroborated in many of its essential details You are, however the exclusive judges of its credibility The Court will only say to you, that there is no law which excludes the testimony of an accomplice or prevents you from giving your credence to it when it has been corroborated in material particulars Indeed, gentlemen I have not been able to perceive from the argument of counsel, that the truth of the material portions of their testimony has been seriously controverted"

The charge was elaborate and quite comprehensive I quote from the concluding portion

"The position that because the defendants had obtained a letter of marque from the President of the so called Confederate States they are exempted from prosecution, in the tribunals of the country, for the acts charged in the indictment, is entirely untenable The existence of civil war, and the concession to the Confederates of belligerent rights in particular cases, under special circumstances, do not imply the renunciation or waiver, by the United States, of any of its municipal rights as a sovereign towards the citizens of the seceded States As a matter of policy and humanity, the Government of the United States has treated the citizens of the so called Confederate States taken in open hostilities as prisoners of war, and has thus exempted them from trial for violation of its municipal laws But the Courts have no such dispensing power They can only enforce the laws as they find them upon the statute book"

The jury retired and were absent just four minutes, when they returned with a verdict of guilty as charged in the indictment There was breathless suspense in the Court when the verdict was announced

Portland and Salt Lake Branch of the Pacific Rail Road.

The great and important work of the Oregon Branch of the Pacific Rail Road lies untouched While far-seeing enterprise is reaching forward to the golden harvest, we are sleeping away our precious moments It is time—high time—we were up and doing California extends her wagon roads to our mines, and her rail roads through our land, yet we are neither moved by her example, nor alarmed at her giant strides

The Government of the United States has granted magnificently to the enterprise of the Pacific Rail Road proper, and promises likewise for the Oregon Branch But to obtain this assistance we must ask it We must put ourselves in position to receive it All agree we must have it, but this will not suffice We must have concert of action, Organized systematic effort must be put forth, not only at one, but at both ends of the route—at intermediate points—at home and abroad

We do not undertake to say by what route such road should pass the Cascade Mountains whether along the Columbia river, or through a more Southern pass It may be that in the first instance, its Western Terminus should be on the Columbia river at the head of navigation These considerations for the present are unimportant Our object should be to put the work in present permanent progress Nor do we propose any plan, that should be the result of an interchange of views amongst thinking, business men, whom we sincerely urge to consult upon this subject

If anything is to be done, let it be done immediately A card might be circulated appointing a time and place for a meeting of the right sort of men

Slavery Passing Away in Missouri and Kentucky —The St Joseph, Mo, Herald contains the following

During the last two months the darkeys have been leaving Platte county at the rate of about thirty or forty per day By the census of 1860 Platte county had a slave population 3,313, and our informant thinks that there are but two or three hundred left —From all portions of North Missouri we have like information, The slaves are leaving by day and by night Few owners pretend to stay the exodus Many pack up their "duds" and walk boldly off in broad day, while others quietly retire in the night Should the flight continue at the present rate, by the time 1868 rolls round the slaves of the State will scarcely be worth counting

The Nashville Union remarks that the same thing is going on, though in a much less degree, in Kentucky Nothing but a standing army for slaveholders will suffice henceforward to check the absconding of the negroes who have determined to be free. The fugitive slave law is a dead letter.

A Catholic Organ on Slavery —The Catholic Telegraph, of Cincinnati, edited by Rev Edward Purcell, brother to Archbishop Purcell publishes an editorial in its issue of the 26th inst, in which the cowardice of those people who are frightened by the term abolitionist is exhibited in the most scathing language Speaking of slavery that paper says

We never raised a hand against it no word of any Catholic editor assailed it so long as it would be unjust and illegal to do so but now that it is dead—dead by the act of its admirers—we will not consent to see its body festering on the highways

Let it be buried out of sight forever Let it rest with all its horrors in the grave—let its memory fade from the recollection of men It was an outrage against humanity such as the history of no other people could exhibit There was something manly in the old custom of reducing to slavery him whose sword had been beaten down by a stronger arm on the battle field there was a show of justice in reducing to bondage the debtor who could not pay his creditor; but for American slavery there was no excuse! It was a monstrous crime—from the seizure of the African in his own land to the moment of his death when his body was wasted by toil, rather than disease to uphold the luxury of a master!

Well, it has fallen, and we are called abolitionists because we refuse our consent to its resuscitation! We are proud of being called so under circumstances so creditable to the mind and heart May we ever deserve the name! We will bear its stigma joyfully through life, and carry it into eternity with honor We struggle in a holy cause—the cause of religion and of the human race.

A Rebel Fiend —A correspondent of the Lowell News, who has lately escaped from Savannah, tells the following story

After the assault on Fort Wagner, when Col Shaw was killed, a rebel soldier was showing his boots in Savannah and bragging how he got them He said he attempted to take them off a Yankee soldier on that fatal field, who, though wounded, remonstrated saying there were dead ones enough from whom he might take a pair Then, with a fiendish exultation, he went on to say how he thought he wouldn't rob the wounded so putting his bayonet through the man's heart he took the boots and came away If devils ever dance, that fellow should be counted in, boots and all

Greenbacks vs Gold in Vancouver Island —A very important motion was argued in the Supreme Court on Wednesday Some months ago Victor Smith, Collector of Customs at Puget Sound, was arrested here up on a foreign judgment amounting to about $800 Pending the final disposition of the case, Mr Drake, counsel for Smith offered to deposit American greenbacks at their value in the United States when the judgment was obtained as security for the payment of the debt Mr Bishop for the plaintiff, opposed the reception of the greenbacks but the Chief Justice accepted Mr Drake's offer and greenbacks at the rate of sixty five cents on the dollar were deposited yesterday,—Victoria (V I) Chronicle, 29th Sept

Match for $3 000 —Messrs Fink Reed and Whetmore have lately taken to California from Oregon [Lane county, we presume] a bay mare and matched her for $3 000 to go against Adams's black gelding 500 yards, on the 24th inst, on the Knight's Landing course The California papers say 'there is no doubt that this will be the fastest race ever run in California since the race of Sam Oldham's gray mare, Comet [raised in Oregon] and John Crowder, where not less than $20,000 were staked on the race —Statesman

Gold Discovery on the Spokane —A gentleman who came from Colville a few days since reports that Antoine Plante—the well known half breed who keeps the Ferry at the crossing of the Spokane river—had found a fair prospect of gold on his farm whilst digging potatoes We give this item for what it is worth but doubt not that ere long, rich diggings will be struck in that section of country—The Spokane Ferry is one hundred and fifty miles from Walla Walla —W W Statesman

A Mistake —We learn from Mr Hale Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Washington Territory that the reported removal of Mr Hutchins from the Flathead Agency is a mistake No charges had been preferred against Mr H and the report doubtless originated in the fact that an additional Agent had been appointed for the Flathead country This appointment was made to fill a vacancy, and does not involve the removal of Mr Hutchins —Montanian

In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then, tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

Diarrhœa and Pain in the Bowels Cured.
Carthage, O., Nov. 25, 1853.

Dr. O. R. Baker—Much Esteemed Friend: I have had a severe attack of Diarrhœa, attended with griping pains, and was reduced very low. I tried many different medicines, but all to no purpose, until I got a bottle of your PAIN PANACEA, and commenced its use. The first dose put a quietus on the griping pains, and I had not used two twenty-five cent bottles before I was entirely cured. I also recommended it to a friend, who was attacked with cramp colic, and suffering with excruciating pains, and three doses entirely cured him.

Washoites "Operating" on San Francisco Flats.—The Virginia City Union has the following:

We notice quite an influx of business men from the Bay and other parts of California in town of late. Some of these we presume are here on mere errands of observation or pleasure, while others are in quest of more important ends, or aiming, perhaps, to combine recreation with business.

Our citizens, comprehending the desires and appreciating the helpless situation of these strangers, are not at all backward in showing them around and enlightening them as to the resources of the country. Cheerfully they accompany them over the hills and point out the position of the various mines, expatiating on their merits and offering them "feet." It is a pleasure to them to perform these little offices of friendship and facilitate the object of their visit by piloting them about and opening an opportunity for a splendid investment. A more courteous people—or ready to serve you for a purpose than these same dealers in "feet," you shall not find outside a crowd of San Francisco hackmen.

"This way gentlemen," say our cicerones, pointing and explaining as they go along, "this way to the Rising Moon, and It's all in your Eye claims—fine ledges they are, too, but none for sale. That, sir, why that's The Devil Take the Hindmost—a splendid mine—paying dividends—had two already—President and Secretary cheated the hands and divided the assessments. Over there you see The Last Chance, and a little farther down, the No Chance at All claim! Wouldn't mind selling a few inches in that at a very low figure. Here we have The Captain Kidd, Cocos Island, and The Fortune in Future—all first rate; and a little higher up, The Honest Miner, The Devout Devil, and The Chance to get your Money Back—a fine series and full of rich ores. These ledges, as you perceive, lie in tiers, three abreast and six deep, the same as the Comstock—money won't buy them! Here is The Freeze Out, in which, too, we might be induced to part with a few feet, just to oblige a friend. There's The Peter Funk ground. Now if there is a bit of ground in this district that we like, it's that Funk ground—bound to come out right. Here we are on South Extension South of the Just Struck it Rich Lead—done it fifty times, and can do it again—such is the capacity of that inexhaustible mine! Yon opening against the side hill is the tunnel of the Gopher Company—in 1,700 feet, and going it blind—because, you see, they are running blind ledges—bully thing, though none in the market. Graves? no, bless your soul! those are prospecting holes—don't bury men here—only their hopes! Now, still pointing and talking as they proceed, "now, there's the Brazen Gate, a superb mine, lying right under the Gould & Curry. This is the Goat on Tick ledge, in which many of our citizens are interested—a permanent investment and not likely to pay. The Coburb, owned by a legal firm in the city; the Diabolus Ridens, with rich sulphurets and happy prospects; the Uncle Sam, gentlemen, can't be beat—the more it's worked the better it yields: the Steal and Share—disputed title, amicably settled in an action at law, the lawyers taking one half and the jury the other; the Nip and Twitch, also involved in litigation—the Nips have it now and the Twitches are after it; the Jeff. Davis shaft—work suspended—bottom fell out; the Copperhead tunnel—abandoned on account of foul air."

And so they get on—these accommodating miners and courteous gentlemen—talking and listening till they have gone the rounds and come back, mutually convinced that if the ledges about Virginia are not the richest in the world they certainly ought to be.

Secretary Seward's Dispatch as to the French in Mexico.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune, under date of Washington, September 10th, writes as follows:

I think I may confidently assure you that our relations with France, represented by some of your cotemporaries as "in a critical condition," are not likely to be disturbed, as some persons thought they might, by the instructions sent from Mr. Seward to Mr. Dayton concerning the occupation of Mexico by the French; Mr. Seward, it is said, does not consider the moment a favorable one for any animadversions upon the course of the Imperial Government with regard to Mexico. Knowing that the Emperor does not acknowledge the principle of the Monroe doctrine, and that he was ready to contest with the United States the right to apply it to any neighboring nation on this continent, the Secretary of State limits his instructions to Mr. Dayton to a rehearsal of those vague and general principles of traditional policy which have been so often put forward by precedent Administrations—contenting himself, for the present, in pointing out to the French Government the sentiments of the American people on that subject, and its probable consequence to France at some remote period not designated. Mr. Seward's instructions are not a protest—still less a remonstrance; they are simply an essay on American politics—nothing more.

The Secretary, it is asserted, has also been heard to hold moderate language in consequence of the information he had received from Mr. Corwin, that the foundation of an empire was in reality the wish of the great majority of the Mexicans, and that the protest of this Government in the matter would have been looked on as a violation of the principle of self-government. "By what right," would have been the response of the Emperor, "do you pretend to force upon the Mexican people a Republic which they detest, and prevent them from choosing the empire which they prefer?" Such was the dilemma Mr. Seward will have to meet, and hence the non-committal tone of the document he has sent to Mr. Dayton on the Mexican question.

A Young Hero.—During the Crimean War, the admiration of the world was challenged for the young Irish hero named "Redan Massey," for his bravery; but we think the following account of the gallantry of Ensign Benj. H. Porter—taken from the New York Post of 22nd ult.—will compare favorably with, if not eclipse, Massey's most daring exploits. A correspondent (says the Post,) thus relates the story:

At the battle of Roanoke Island, he commanded a launch of six Dahlgren howitzers from his vessel, in the advance of the centre, which he dragged through a swamp, the mud up to the "hubs" of the wheels, took his position "under a galling fire from the enemy," which he maintained, returning fire until most of his men had fallen, when one of the guns exploded, and one man alone remained with him, of whom he thus wrote (boy like, of seventeen years,) to his mother: "He alone remained, when a slug passed into his throat, from which the blood streamed out; he looked in my face, choked, fell down and died. This made me madder than ever, and I then went in on my muscle." He bravely remained alone with his battery, cleaning, loading and firing his guns himself, until, with Hawkins' Zouaves, they won the day. His truly wonderful conduct elicited the great admiration of all who beheld it. A testimonial was written, signed by his commander and officers."

Negro Troops.—As there are many doughfaces in this State who pretend to oppose the Administration because of the arming of negro troops, their passions ought to cool off when the fact is established that the rebels from the beginning resorted to this same thing. There is plenty of evidence to prove this fact, and we would add to it, if the fact was not conceded. On this subject, a late number of the New York Tribune held forth as follows:

That the Confederates armed negroes at the outset of their rebellion, we have already shown. They did so in Mobile, even before the battle of Bull Run. They did so in Louisiana, before one negro had been allowed to put on the uniform of the United States, and black regiments had an honorable position in their grand parade in the autumn of '61.—They did so in Tennessee, even before they had openly seceded from the Union. Theodore Winthrop at Great Bethel was shot by a slave, armed for the fray by the master, and maddened by the rebel falsehood that the Yankees were coming to steal all the slaves and sell them in Cuba. In fact, the rebels intended and fully expected from the outset to make all possible use of slaves; it was only our use of them that they objected to. And their savage acts and orders directing that blacks captured while in arms for the Union should be enslaved or put to death, were all based on the assumption that those negroes were their slaves, who had "revolted" and were in "insurrection" against their lawful rulers and masters. And that, it seems, is a crime which these gentry regard with peculiar horror.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore, thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

ATTENTION, SOLDI

AND THE FRIENDS OF

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise would be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADEL

Messrs Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
